In addition to bringing full productions to life, you'll take a comprehensive theatre curriculum, focused on theatre management, technology and design, performance skills, dramatic literature, history, and theory. This concentration also includes a series of courses that will complete a minor in business administration. Here's a sample of what you can expect to learn and create:

Theatre Management
This course teaches the business of showbiz. Theory and practice of theatre operations, organizational structure and administration is applied to running a box office, season promotion and subscriptions, budgeting, touring, and production management.

Stagecraft I & II
Stagecraft I is an introduction to the principles of theatre production: scenery, lighting, drafting, scenic construction, and practices. Stagecraft II further develops abilities in scenic construction, drafting and properties. Students practice production principles in labs focused around department productions.

The Dramatic Imagination
This course introduces the basic principles of dramatic structure, theatrical research for production, and dramaturgy. Through analysis of dramatic texts and structure, aspiring professionals learn the legacy of the theatrical production, and how plays are realized in performance.

Directing and Advanced Directing
Basic concepts of directing are explored such as script analysis, casting, rehearsal procedures, blocking, and interacting with actors and a production team. Students will direct actors and present scenes from plays of a wide variety of theatrical time periods and genres.

Possible Careers:
- Equity actor
- Casting director
- Entertainment lawyer
- Business entrepreneur

ATTENDING LOYOLA means being in the heart of New Orleans. Our campus is located in the city's historic Uptown neighborhood, just a short drive from the Central Business District, the city's hub of creativity and innovative thinking. You'll learn to hone your talents in the city named the #1 best city in the U.S. for creative professionals.